

Embroidery at the IMB

That certain something

Embroideries are much en vogue. While machines fitted with few heads are predominantly used in western Europe, the major embroidery machines are running mostly in Asia.

by Ursula Korsten

Plain piece of clothing or accessories are provided with a personal touch by embroideries, making the article stand out from the mass of faceless products

The fast to chlorine metallic yarn by Madeira prior (left) and after (right) denim washing

Photo: Madeira

The Stiffy 2040 cut nonwoven is ideally suited for sheer and softly draping fabrics

Photo: Gumold

Madiera's fast to chlorine sewing threads are a true peculiarity significantly contribute to rendering the software even more powerful and user-friendly.

Photo: Madeira

as novel functions implemented in the filling programmes are additional highlights. The beginner's package BasePac Ace has also been upgraded, featuring a new software protection system.

Right in time for the IMB, Wings Systems Ltd. from Thessaloniki (GR) has been projecting a highlight for the trade fair by presenting the new software solution 4.00 of Wings' XP eXPerience. Almost totally re-programmed, the innovative high-tech software boasts plenty of new, sophisticated features. For instance, digitising can be carried out in direct 3D mode with the new version, and any modification becomes immediately visible on the screen as a stitch change. The novel tools